We're Captured On a Carousel Of Time

"And the seasons go 'round and 'round and the painted ponies go up and down. We're all captured on a carousel of time." We have the same classes every day along with the same holidays and functions every year. Time slips away quickly and quietly and more time comes to meet us. It changes us even if we don't want to be changed. Time passes slowly when we're bored and quickly when we're having fun. Everything depends on time. "We can't return we can only look behind from where we came, and go 'round and 'round and 'round in the circle game."

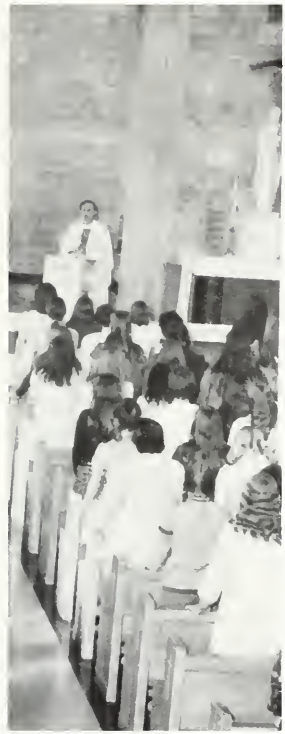
JR LADY OF GRACE

School Day

Classes! We take the same ones every day. Schedule wise the whole day is the same, we get up, go to homeroom, go to classes, eat lunch, go to classes, go home and study. It's one big circle. Sometimes we enjoy our classes and sometimes they just don't make it. We learn to take the bad days with the good. "And the painted ponies go UP and DOWN.



The Spirit of Our Faith Is Found in Many Forms

Religion classes at Our Lady of Grace are required for four years. Freshmen and sophomores take required courses, while juniors and seniors have the privilege of taking elective courses each lasting nine weeks. New responsibilities were taken on by each religion class in planning such activities as respect-for-life month and friendship week, bringing the school closer together. Each class also took it upon themselves to plan a meaningful retreat.

Lynn Hurrle offers her interpretation of youth for "Respect-for-Life" month.

The sophomore religion class held a flea mart with profits going to poor.

"Respect for Aged." Tina Cissell and Janice Marcum listen attentively.

Students come together to make the Mass a meaningful celebration.

Talent Expressed In Music and Art

Music and Art play major roles in the activities at Grace. Music appreciation, chorus, and private piano and voice lessons were taught by the talented members of the faculty, Sister Harriet, Miss Ellen Williams, and Miss Lynn Lineback. Art is offered as an elective for four years along with Art Appreciation for the freshmen. The gifted faculty member in this field is Sister Mary Lambert. Each student is given a chance to express her talent at recitals and picture displays in the Student Center.

Art brings a challenge into Patti Baldwin's freshman year.

Sherry Curren and Mary Mattingly take advantage of the teaching position.

Sister Mary Lambert has a helpful hint for Mary Barth's work.

Freshmen art appreciation students study with full concentration.

Social Studies — The Study of Reality and Why.

Social Studies is one of the most important subjects in school. In both World and U.S. History we learned that not only good decisions had been made but also bad ones. Through Government and Economics, students learned ways to combat these wrong decisions and make this country a better place to live in. The three experts in these subjects were Father Kenneth Smith, World History; Mr. Michael Hilderbrand, U.S. History; and Mrs. Kathi Martin, Government and Economics.

Julie Looney assists Lynn Yanasak in answering a question.

Jane Eckhart represents the seniors' feelings of Econ class — it's FUN!

History is made fun through the superb teaching of Mr. Hilderbrand.

World History students search for the country that they are studying.

Language Classes Expand Horizons

Moving from room to room in the language department at OLG is like taking a trip around the world. Latin, the basis for many languages, is offered and taught by Sister Valeria. Sister Marguerite, Sister Mary Beth, and Miss Mary Weust not only teach their students about the language, but continue with the study by having a French dinner. Sister Marguerite and Mrs. Martin further students' knowledge in Spanish by planning a summer trip to Mexico for those interested.

Kathy Morgason reads her Latin book with genuine interest.

With a little Scrabble, juniors find Spanish can be fun.

Sr. Marguerite expresses her love for foreign languages through teaching.

Mary Stiegelmeyer, Susan Papesh and Magdalene Arszman adjust French posters.

English — A Very Important Language

English, required at OLG for four years, focuses on a number of teachers. The English staff includes, Sister Jeanne, Sister Mary Cecile, Sister Emily, Sister Cleophas, Sister Marguerite, and Miss Antoineette Pangallo, all teaching a separate branch of English which offers the students a wider variety of courses, ranging from Creative Writing to Vocabulary. The Juniors and Seniors chose their own courses while the Freshmen and Sophomores got a good basis for future classes.

Annette Magnant digs up some references for one of those long assignments.

Juniors attentively listen to their informative English teacher.

Mr. Dave Geible enjoys being a guest speaker in this Shakespeare class.

Sr. Jeanne proves that there's more to Speech class than talking.

Business Classes Stress Efficiency

Business classes of Typing I and II, Shorthand I and II, Bookkeeping, Business English and Business Math prepare interested girls for the lives of secretaries, receptionists and other members of our hectic business world. Sr. Mary Jonathan (Typing I and Shorthand II), Sr. Mary Gilbert (Typing II), Sr. Mary Judith (Business English, Shorthand I and Bookkeeping) and Sr. Louise (Business Math) taught with great dexterity, the skills needed for these valued positions.

Vicki Trombly is working hard to achieve her goal of 150.

Such form! Such Style! Such grace! (Walke, that is).

Demonstrating her shorthand skill is Jean Huser.

Nobody's perfect, as Sam Helmer well knows.

Sciences — Unforgettable Experiences

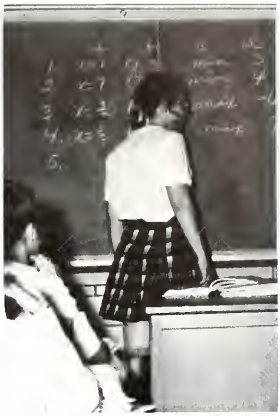
Determination, hardwork, and think were just a few of the words you heard from students and teachers of the science classes. Sister Marietta and Miss Judy Gossman teaching Biology showed the students a new perspective of life. Both also taught Algebra I with Sister Marietta forging ahead with Algebra II and Trig. Mrs. Alice Meador and Mrs. Karen Stein proved to the students in the chemistry lab that the impossible equation they learned on one of their math classes really did have a use.

Kathy Helvaty finds Biology tests on the difficult side.

Lynn Hurrle, Maureen Duffin and Cheryl Pierson perfect an experiment.

Dissecting a grasshopper? Kid stuff to these sophomore biologists, Maureen Cannaday and Maureen Gilday.

Taking trig really is suicide as shown by the class.



Mad scientists? No, it's Patti Morical, Sue Osburn, and Suzie Quill.

What a cheery thought. "I finally did it," says Patty Dalton.

Sophomores know geometry as area, volume, perimeter, circumference . . .

Kim Stanley ponders over another tough geometry problem.

Loretta Morgason reveals her true talent of dissecting a grasshopper.

The Future Homemakers of America

Cooking and sewing are the first things thought of when Home Ec. is mentioned, but everyone knows it's not that easy. In cooking there is always clean-up and in sewing the seam ripper becomes popular. All these things and more are a part of the class. Teas were planned for the teachers by the foods class and in sewing, garments were made and displayed in a fashion show. A combined class of interior design and family living helped many of the seniors plan ahead for the future.

Judy Gebhardt, acting as hostess, pours the beverage for her group.

Judy Lenahan and this cute "little dumpling" model outfits made by Judy.

Sister Marietta and Miss Gossman enjoy a tea planned by Foods III.

Karen Shott, Mrs. Vernon, and Cathy Zimmer display their candy house.

Driver Ed Stresses Safety; Gym Builds Physical Stamina

Driver Education and physical education are essential to today's living. Driver Education, which is taught by Mrs. Courtney Profit, prepares the inexperienced driver to handle and control the car. Also in the class, the importance of safety techniques are stressed. Physical Education, also taught by Mrs. Profit, gives OLG freshmen and sophomores the chance to learn the techniques and gain the physical ability in various sports.

Kathy Davis performs her knee drop on the trampoline for the class.

Sophomores, "Practicing with a birdie might have been a better idea."

Members of Driver Ed. may be posing for their last picture.

School Year

School starts in late summer, early fall. Halloween, Thanksgiving and Kris Kindles are found in the fall and early winter. The Holly and the Spaghetti Social are a part of winter and with the coming of spring comes Easter and graduation. "And the seasons go round and round."

Student Council Activities Kick Off the Year

Student Council Inductions and Get Acquainted day were the first activities that the Council planned. Representatives as well as the officers pledged to accept the responsibilities of giving their best to the school and students during a ceremony at Mass. After church the student body separated into groups and planned skits to be presented at the end of the day.

Sam Helmer is always there when you need her.

Mary Carr, as Sister Louise, aids Alice through Graceland.

Mrs. O'Brien, Sister Louise, and the officers bring the gifts to the altar.

Guaranteed to keep you in stitches, group two plans their laughing skit.

As the flames of the candles are one, so the Student Council hopes to be one.

Big Sisters and Little Sisters Find "Never A Dull Moment!"

The year was both started and finished with a party joining the Big Sisters and Little Sisters. A "Get Acquainted Party" was given by the Big sisters to help break the ice of a new school and new classmates. There were games played, a picnic served, songs sung and a free time to be with their new sisters. At the end of the year Freshmen said goodbye to their Big Sisters at the "Auf Wiedersehn Party." Here pizza was eaten and gifts exchanged.

Beth Strange is getting her fill of pizza.

Jane O'Connor enjoys a picnic supper with Carol Sparks and Cheryl Miller.

Little Sisters wonder what the upcoming instructions will be.

Denise Calhoun and Carol Sparks eat "a dinner fit for a queen."

Little Sisters find that growing is easy with help from their Big Sisters.

Candy Sale and Ad "Drives the School to Success

The entire student body got involved in this year's candy sale and ad drive. The seniors surprised everyone by winning the ad drive, while the total of the school's quota was 93.8%. Once again the school got involved in the candy sale with the juniors pushing ahead to exceed their goal. In the end the school reached 95% of its quota.

Peggy O'Connor and Patty Hillerby find, a lot of candy has to be sold.

Realizing the box won't fit in her locker, Susie Payne sets it on top.

D. J. Mary Anne Gault spins the disc for the senior skit.

"Let's Make A Deal?" No, its the Grace Candy Rally.

Karen Field and Claudia Dominik aid Sam Helmer in filling out a receipt.

Dance, Swing and Sing To the Music

Two informal dances were found on the agenda for the 1973-74 school year. The Student Council-sponsored get acquainted dance not only brought students from all over, to dance to the music of "Boss Tweed," but they also helped send children from Sycamore II to Kings Island.

The Sophomores Mardi Gras dance "Sunshine" broke the tradition of dancing to a band. They had Chuck Williams a d-j from WNAP come and play records and give out albums.

Monica Leonard grooves to the music of "Boss Tweed."

Sophomores make up a new dance using no feet.

Marie Shikany gets the ol' hand stamped by Sue McCann.

Mary Stickan and Mary Fillenwarth help you freshen up with refreshments.

Mary Beth Sponsel and company are caught relaxing on the stage.

Halloween Brings Out the Spirits in All

The Halloween party held in October started off with a big "Boo!" Among the attendants were stop lights, cheerleaders, and most prominent of all, Miss Indiana 1918. There was a scariness in the air as everyone watched the movie with terror. At intermission apple cider and candy were served. The pumpkin carving contest, won by Laura Sanchez, seemed to be the highlight of the funfilled evening.

Cindy Newman looks at her new costume.

Raggedy Ann and Andy bring back childhood memories for all.

The costume parade winners are Mrs. Martin, Pam Blanton, Sister Jeanne, Magdalen Arszman, and Laura Sanchez.

Christmas Came — "Better Late Than Never!"

Due to the snow fall in December, the Christmas party was postponed and rescheduled for the fitst week in January. The party, organized by the senior class, started the New Year off right. Gift exchanges took place among Big Sisters and Little Sisters, Christmas angels and their Kris Kindles, the faculty and Student Body. Although it came late, the Christmas spirit still stirred among the students.

Rita Lime breathlessly looks at her stuffed bear and sweater.

Beth Strange is caught by surprise decorating her Kris Kindle's locker.

The best part of the party for the seniors was opening their presents.

Tony Constantino agrees with her little friend that it's only puppy love.

An Evening for Just "Me and My Daddy."

One of the many planned activities of the Student Council Standing Committees was the annual father-daughter evening, which was held in March. The theme of the evening was titled "Me and My Daddy." The evening began with daughters serving an informal dinner to their fathers, in the night club atmosphere made possible by the decorations. Entertainment was provided by talented fathers and daughters, and towards the end of the evening there was a sing along of old favorites.

Cathy Zimmer and Magdalen Arszman decorate the candles for the evening.

The fathers and daughters dance to the beat of "Golden Oldies."

Patsy Scollard and Marianne Heck act as waitresses for their fathers.

The talented Baldwin sisters dance to the music of "Chicago."

Mothers and Daughters Agree You've Come a Long Way Baby

Dances and songs from 50 years gone by took mothers and daughters on a journey through the past. The entertainment brought out the theme, "You've Come a Long Way Baby." Although daughters performed the dances, the mothers showed their ability also with the bunny-hop and some modern dances. Refreshments consisted of pastries and punch.

Joan Stahl gives a helping hand in serving the refreshments.

Mrs. John Hurrle and daughter, Lynn, demonstrate the jitterbug from the 40's.

Karen Fagan, Patty Garcia, and Lori Sullivan button up their overcoats.

Gina, Mrs. Elmer Spieker, and Sr. Margurite observe dances from five decades.

Mothers and their daughters enjoy dancing to the bunny-hop.

Cantata Brings to All A Spirit of Christmas

"Carol of the Bells — Noel, Noel," the theme for the 1973 Cantata was directed by Sister Harriet and Miss Williams. Held in December, the show narrated by Susie Maley, brought out talents other than singing. Bongos, cymbals, and other percussions accompanied the chorus. Paula Baldwin, dancing to Laura Sanchez's violin, was another attraction. The Cantata wouldn't be complete without its soloists. This year's were Donna Theising, Jeannie Weddle, and Theresa Richart.

Beth Guenin is discovered backstage checking out the malfunctioned lights.

Jeannie Weddle sings the part of the hopeful mother in AMAHL.

The AVE MARIA gets a new tone as the violin is played by Laura Sanchez.

Paula Baldwin dances her own composition to AVE MARIA.

The combined choruses raise their voices to sing of the birth of Christ.

Mary Diane Keyler and Mary Ferry perform a duet to accompany the chorus.

Donna Theising lights the candle, representing Christ's birth.

Karen Short and Rita Lime prepare for the night's performance.

Sister Harriet plays the piano while Miss Williams directs the chorus.

The Hollyberry Ball Adds Happiness to the Holiday Season

The theme of the Hollyberry Ball, "A Christmas Fantasy," required the presence of Raggedy Ann. As she relaxed in her rocking chair, couples danced to the music of the "Light Touch." To add to the holiday spirit decorated Christmas trees were placed by the fireplace in the center of the floor. The highlight of the evening took place when Sally Shanahan announced this year's queen, Judy Mattox, Rosemary Wyss, 1972 Holly Queen, had the honor of crowning her.

Raggedy Ann brings back fantasies to Debbie Waymire and Tom McShane.

Ann Underwood, Karen Field, and Jeannie Huser serve as hostesses.

Sue Faust, Betty Ann Zimmer, and Sally Shannahan decorate the gym.

Lisa Wire's first Holly is one that she will always remember.

Sue Osburn is having a good time at the Holly.

Couples enjoy dancing to the music of the "Light Touch."

The decorations added to the "Fantasy" mood of the Holly.

Denise Lohman shows that dancing isn't the only enjoyment.

Judy Mattox seems happy to be crowned the 1973 Holly Queen by Rory Wyss.

Spaghetti Aroma Draws Folks of All Nationalities

Although the blizzard on February 24 held some back, the Spaghetti Social was successful. Through the efforts of all, the net profit came to approximately $6,300 which will be used to move the art department to larger quarters. Workers and patrons alike had fun trying their luck at the variety of games in the gym, while others were enticed by the aroma of the spaghetti.

Bo Carr supplies needed talents for completion of decorations.

Mrs. Zimmer gazes appreciatively at the varied booths in the gym.

Karen Denny and Janice Marcum happily volunteer for this "trashy" job.

Placing trust in Mary Diane Keyler, Patti Pekarek awaits change.

Mary Fillenwarth displays the bicycle she won by selling chances.

Service with a smile is shown by Donna Zazopoulos and Denise Lohman.

Even the men get into the action at the spaghetti social.

Marianne Heck looks on while something fishy is happening.

Sister Louise and Mrs. Sponsel add the magic touch to the meatballs.

Student Appreciation Night Shows and Tells Talent

Many new and different talents were found at Student Appreciation night. Not only was there singing but also swimming, dancing, puppets, and judo. Parents and friends enjoyed the performance while having refreshments made by the Home Ec students.

The puppets made by Rory Wyss are carrying on an interesting conversation.

Debbie Utterback, Georgianne Kempe, and Nancy Norris enjoy doing a pole dance.

Puppets fight with the aid of Grace Walke and Rory Wyss.

A family watches and appreciates the students' admirable talents.

Dancing in the water is just as easy as on "terra firma."

The wave of Sister Harriet's hand releases the Glee Club's melodious tones.

Paula Baldwin displays her gracefulness through dance.

Gently now, Chris, don't hurt Debbie; it's just a demonstration.

The chorus produces full volume for this and all songs.

Carousel — Rounds Out The School Year

With the combined efforts of Mr. Dave Geible, Sister Harriet Woehler, Miss Ellen Williams, Miss Nancy Johnson, Miss Nelda Warren and the cast and crew, this year's musical "Carousel" became an enjoyable experience. Everyone took an interest in this venture. Backdrops and props were made by the Art classes while costumes were made by students in Home Ec classes. Time was devoted to lighting and stage crew by many willing volunteers.

Miss Nelda Warren lights the way for lighting crew.

Patsy McMahon transforms Jim Hummel into Jigger Craigin.

Miss Nancy Johnson has the right steps for the dancers.

Clare Talley, Betty Ann Zimmer, and Carol Bixler a happy stage crew.

The cast members receive last minute instructions from Mr. Dave Geible.

Donna Theising as Carrie, and George Arndt as Enoch Snow sing of their future.

The male cast members sing BLOW HIGH, BLOW LOW.

Those carnival goers enjoy a pleasant ride on the carousel.

IF I LOVED YOU sings Billie Bigelow, (Kyle Bradford) to Julie, (Jeanne Weddle).

June dancers perform a fantastic ending to JUNE IS BUSTING OUT ALL OVER.

Traces Are Left Because "We May Never Pass This Way Again"

The Egyptian Room at the Murat Temple provided an air of mystique for the Juniors and Seniors who attended the prom. Couples danced while the "Light Touch" played many songs including the theme song, "We May Never Pass This Way Again." The culmination of the night occurred when Mary Carr was crowned 1974 prom queen by Michele Hampton.

Special memories will always be held by Susie Teipen and Charlie Wakelam.

Sam Helmer and Mike Fay rest between dances to catch a laugh.

The couples enjoy dancing to the music of the "Light Touch."

A happy Mary Carr is crowned queen of the prom by Michele Hampton.

Eileen Bessler and her date take a break for refreshments.

Student Body Shows That "'Tis the Month of Our Mother"

Both Mary and Sister Mildred Wannemuehler were honored on the first Friday in May. This year Sister Mildred celebrated her 25th anniversary in the convent. The annual May Crowning was held on this day, too. The celebration started in the chapel with a mass where Carol Bixler was crowned May Queen. The student body then went in procession outside to the circle where songs were sung and Mary was crowned.

Mary is honored not only with a crown but also with flowers.

Betty Ann Zimmer lends a helping hand to queen Carol Bixler.

Patsy McMahon and Julie Looney gather their gifts for the altar.

Sister Mildred carries the chalice in honor of her 25th jubilee.

Faculty and students alike join in a circle to honor Mary.

Theresa Cissell and Joan Stahl watch as Mary Anne Matthews places her flower.

Carol Bixler offers her crown to the Blessed Mother.

Karen Short helps put some finishing touches on Mary Anne Gaule's hair.

Members of the court offer a silent prayer.

Gorillas Gritted Their Teeth And Did Better

Improvement was the word for all of the Grace Gorillas. The football team started the year off right by tying the Ladywood Lizzards 0-0. The volleyball team also bettered their record by one game and although the basketball team won only three games it was better than the two won in the previous year. The tennis team also showed a marked improvement by winning one game. All in all it was a good year for the new IHSAA members.

Kathy Short makes one of her many lay-up shots.

The spectators enjoy the playing ability of the football team.

Chris Roell with the aid of Debbie Sparks demonstrates a protection in Judo.

Cheerleaders instill in the students a spirit of enthusiasm.

Coach Mrs. Courtney Profit gives one of her many last-minute pep talks.

Co-ordinator Mrs. Kathi Martin gets in on the action with the aid of Julia Kramer.

Players anxiously await the result of the shot.

The Grace Gorillas demonstrate one of their brilliant plays.

Spanish Club Involves Fun, Food and Fiestas

After a year's "Siesta," the Spanish Club awoke to the tantalizing aroma of a Spanish gourmet dinner held in October. The club was reorganized by Mrs. Kathi Martin and Sister Marguerite.

During the Christmas season the club held a Christmas party. The girls decided to dress up for the occasion. They dined with Spanish food that they had prepared themselves. After the dinner the "Fiesta" continued with games such as the traditional Spanish pinata Georgianne Kempe and Sister Marguerite hang the piñata for the party.

Nancy McShane and Mary Beth Sponsel properly set the table for dinner.

Judy Lenahan intently watches Cathy Bowling as she helps serve dinner.

The club waits for Shari Johnson to break open the piñata.

Carol Weddle, Mary Fillenwarth, and Shari Johnson help clean up.

Drama Club Peaks Behind the Scene

This year's Drama Club was small in body but big in deed. Although there were no performances, members occupied their time with the other aspects of drama. The club learned about make-up, lighting and props. To finish off the year the Drama Club found time for an afternoon of fun.

Linda Francescon waits patiently to see what she will be.

Guest speakers not only explain but demonstrate make-up.

Jennifer Sipes really digs her teeth into her last performance.

These Drama Club members enjoy one last meeting.

Catalinas Perform Holidays Throughout the Year

Jesters, cotton candies, skeletons, and ice skaters were only a few of the different performers that helped represent different holidays and events throughout the year in this year's water ballet production. Eighteen numbers were performed to an enchanted audience. Sam Helmer, Jan Campbell and Terri Matthews performed the three solos while the rest of the club performed various other duets, trios and group numbers. The night came to a splashing end with the grand finale, THOSE WERE THE DAYS.

Holly Blanton, Debbie Utterback, and Sue Pacanowski work on back drops.

Swimmers and stage crew wait for the practice to begin.

Nancy McShane begins her number by entering the water with much grace.

Mary Tandyk manipulates the spotlight for the three evening performances.

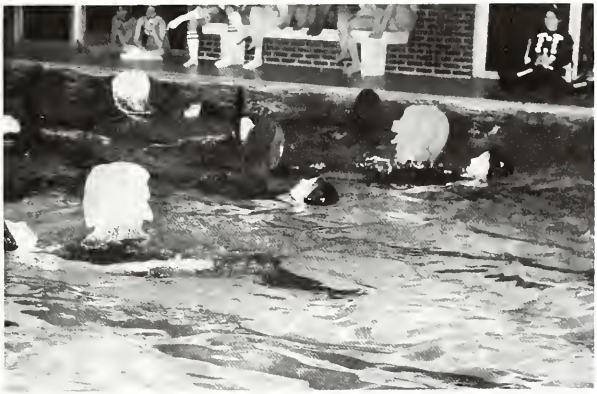
Lori Sullivan, Judy Gebhardt, and Mary Mattingly arise for Halloween.

Kris Gunn takes time after the show to dry her hair.

HAIL TO THE CHIEF is played while presidents parade through the water.

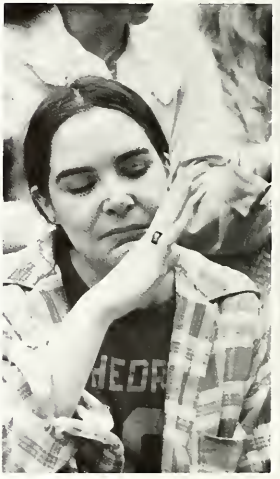
The May Day number was cleverly performed around the May Pole.

Teri Matthews and Patsy McMahon are a little camera shy.



Field Day Breaks the Monotony Of a Hectic Schedule

Despite the weather, Field Day arrived. The afternoon began with a picnic lunch followed by many different planned activities such as bubble gum blowing, basketball, volleyball, jello slurping, tricycle races, banana peeling and balloon shaving. This year points were given to the class for each activity won by a person in that class. After the day was completed points were added up and the winners were announced. Sophomores and Seniors tied for first place while Faculty came in second followed by the Freshmen and Juniors tying for the last place.



Susie Fitzgerald steals away from all calories of Mister Softee.

Four happy freshmen enjoy their first field day.

Having her fill of jello, Janet Gumbel refuses to eat any more.

Judi Matthews, Janice Marcum, and Mary Mattingly get ready to take off.

These sophomores hurry to see who would get their balloons shaved first.

Sound of Music Found at Music Graduation

Music Graduation was the happy end of four years of hard work for three seniors Jane O'Connor, Donna Theising, and Jeannie Weddle. Jane O'Connor and Donna Theising graduated in piano while Jeannie Weddle graduated in voice. Each girl performed three selections from memory for their family, friends, and faculty. The climax of the night was attained when each girl received a certificate of accomplishment from Sister Harriett Woehler.

Gina Spieker congratulates graduates Jane O'Connor and Donna Theising.

Music Graduates are Jeanne Weddle, Donna Theising, and Jane O'Connor.

Donna Theising, Sue Osburn, and Jane O'Connor stop a moment for drinks.

Proudly, Jeannie Weddle holds years of hard work in her hands.

Hands of Time Hold Memories for the Class of '74

On May 22 the Senior class of 1974 said their last goodbyes to Our Lady of Grace Academy. The day began with a Mass concelebrated by Father James Bonke, Father Kenneth Smith and Father Anton Braun. A breakfast for the graduates and guests preceded the Baccalaureate where the class will and prophecy were read. Commencement began at 8 p.m. with the singing of the class song. After the addresses were made and the diplomas presented, the graduates said the final farewells to friends.

Father Anton Braun delivers his commencement address to the class of '74.

To add to the excitement, Mrs. Lois Vernon hands a rose to Theresa Cissell.

Graduates enjoy a leisurely breakfast with their parents and friends.

The class of '74 makes the happy change from seniors to freedom.

Graduated seniors march out for the last time.

Seniors show gratitude to Sister Harriet through "Fiddler on the Roof."

A happy Donna Theising receives her diploma from Father Gerold Gettelfinger.

Clare Talley gives her valedictory address to close the commencement.

Rosemary Wyss greets audience in her salutatory address.

Seniors say one last goodbye to all.

RECORDS

Faculty, students, officers, teams, organizations, and maintenance make Our Lady of Grace what it is today. Each year different people do different things and they never can come back and do that same thing again. "We can't return, we can only look behind from where we came."

"Picking the right savings passbook doesn't have to be confusing."

"It's really quite simple. We offer three savings passbooks. A Regular. A Ninety Day. And a Golden Premium Term Passbook. To earn the higher interest rate, you promise to keep your money on deposit a longer period of time. Of course, we try to know our customer's savings goals before they open an account. Because, when we know their goals, we can help put their money in the passbook that will do them the most good." Joe Stetzel is an American Fletcher Banking Center Manager. There's an American Fletcher manager in your neighborhood, whose primary interest is you.

Federal regulations permit withdrawals from time deposit accounts before maturity, provided the rate of interest on the amount withdrawn is reduced to the regular savings rate, and three months' interest is forfeited.
